ABOUT THE SCHOOL

Kaospilot is a world-renowned School for Creative Leadership and Meaningful Entrepreneurship that specializes in designing and delivering impact-driven education. Our programs are not designed simply to shape emergent leaders for the future, but to help them create it.

Founded in Aarhus in 1991, the Enterprising Leadership Program develops talented leaders who are committed to realizing their visions and values, while advancing their abilities, attitudes and knowledge to make a positive difference in the world. The program is committed to, and in service of, our students cultivating a sense of personal agency and making a positive contribution to the 21st century.

We focus on people's potential to develop and to achieve – to use their creativity and set direction and create the setting which allows them to navigate the uncertainty that follows. We guide leaders and potential change-makers to develop the knowledge, skills, attitudes and competencies they need to fulfill their values and visions. We build the frameworks that support leaders to become creative leaders that make a positive difference in the world.

AS FEATURED IN

“...this kind of education favors practice over theory, evolves quickly in response to the real needs of students and connects communities of practitioners. Augmented education both complements and moves beyond the Ivory Tower, and that’s why it’s here to stay.” Fast Company, 2011

OUR PEDAGOGICAL APPROACH

Over the past 30+ years, we have developed and refined the pedagogical approach of the Enterprising Leadership Program. Practically speaking, our pedagogical approach offers students the following:

ACTION & REFLECTION

The Enterprising Leadership Program is a playground for learning where you apply theory in action and become a leader who is engaged in creating change through action. You will work actively with action and reflection in order for you to develop a deeper understanding of your work and achieve better results in the future.

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING

The exposure to different types of project work will be a central part of your education and your learning. Projects happen in a wide range of constellations: individually, small groups and team-wide. You will have the opportunity to bring in projects from your own field of interests or even your own business, as well as working with projects on a global level.

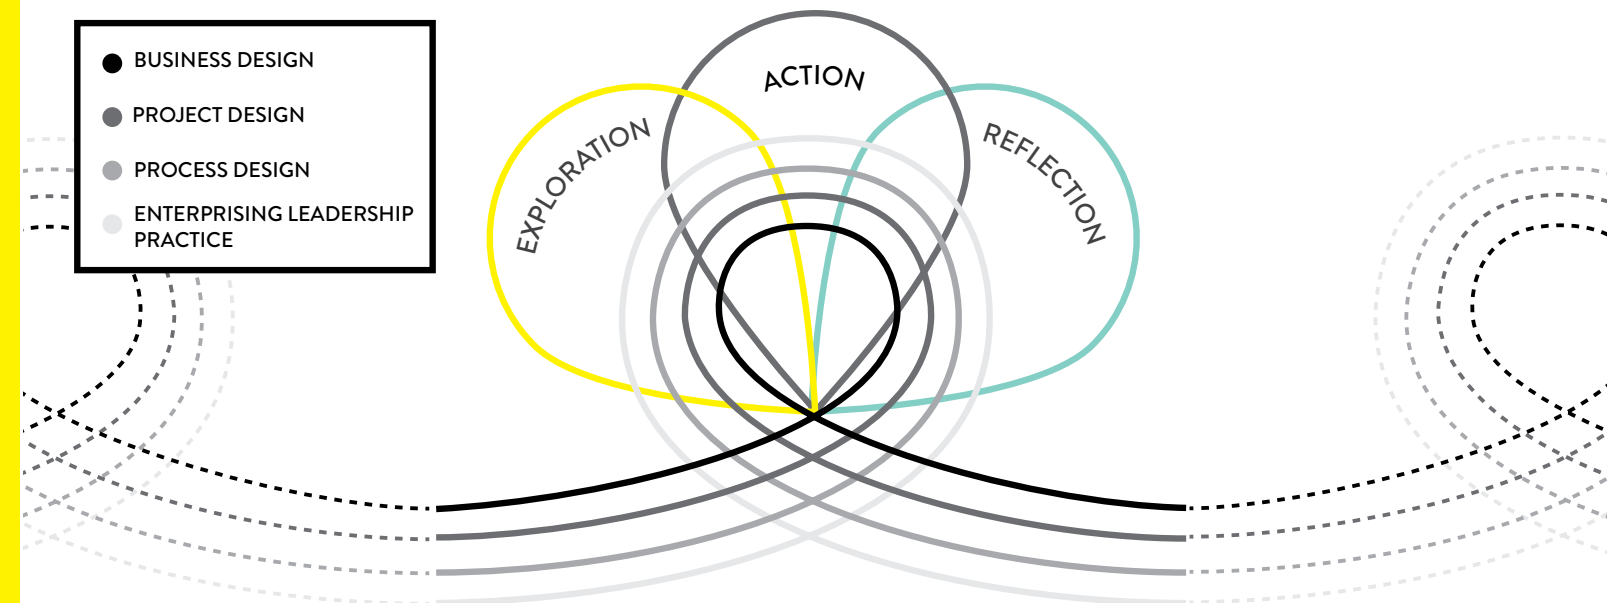

WORKSHOPS & PRACTICE

You will be taught by some of the world's leading experts who will provide you with the latest theories, tools and their experience. All of our lectures are workshop-based, which means that they are interactive and practically focused on how you apply the theory and tools in your individual work or group projects.

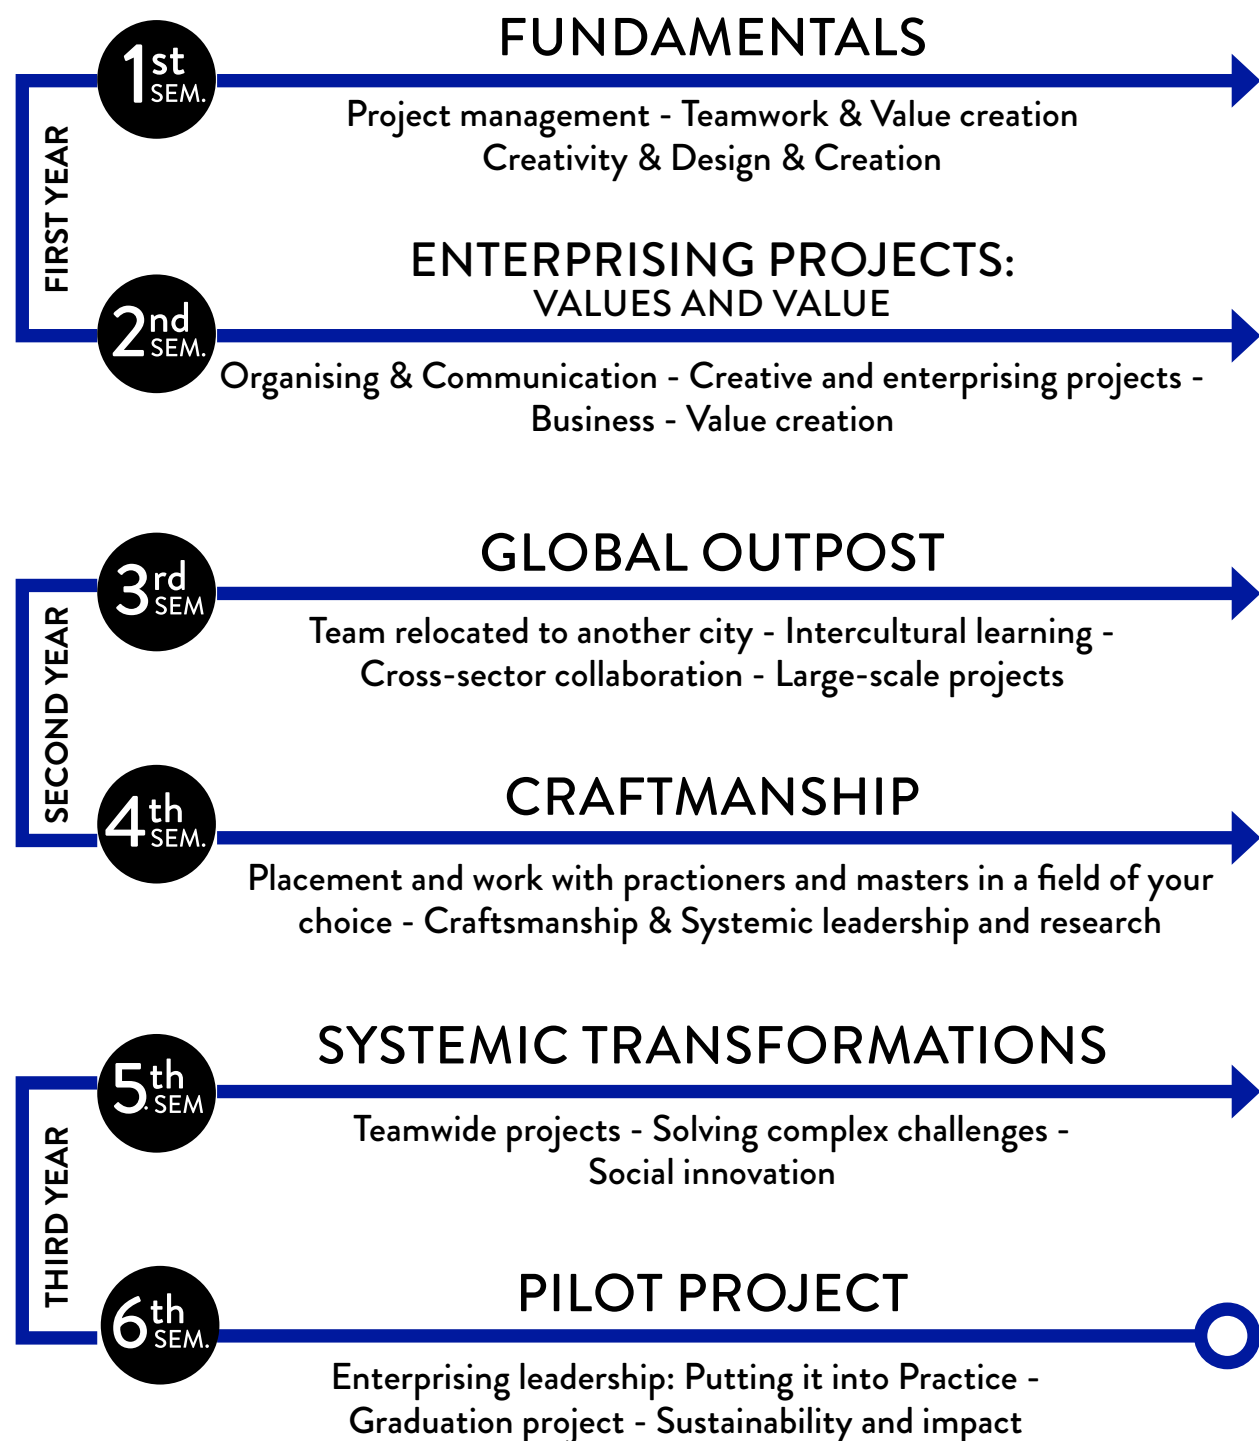

DESIGN & LEARNING LOOP

Our pedagogical approach consists of a particular learning process that students actively work with in their projects, enabling the student to work with projects in any field and of all shapes and sizes.

During their education, each student's project follows the same process or design & learning loop, as we call it. The student will experience that the content of the program will come alive through this loop and evolve in complexity and in depth from semester to semester. The intention with the loop is to provide the student with a fundamental design and learning process, which they consciously will be able to carry out, in different fields and in projects of different sizes, and professionally master.

KAOSPILOTS SAY...

“The most important thing I have taken with me from my time at Kaospilot are the people I met there and the consensus we created about not having to do things in the way that they were normally done. We’re still figuring out how to go about it. All in all, those years were part of forming a foundation for all the things that I have been doing since.”

Jonatan Spejlberg, Founder & Headmaster at LungA School. Founder & co-owner at HEIMA Art Collective

“I am a serial social entrepreneur, who leads societal innovation processes. But what does that mean? For the past 10 years I have founded several social impact projects and consulted large multinational organisation how to “do well by doing good. I use 90% of what I learned at the KaosPilots in my daily business.

Not many university degrees can claim that! My Kaospilot education amongst others taught me value based leadership, it developed my ability to build strong eco-systems and taught me to facilitate co-creation between stakeholders.”

Anne Kjaer Riechert, Founder, Kids have a Dream, Berlin Peace Innovation Lab, Refugees on Rails

“Our community has a real ‘do-ocratic culture’, where people take initiatives in all sizes and shapes and support shows up from all corners of the building. I feel we are trying to create a place where all individuals are committed to and feel the importance in being an active part of the community. Also, that we dare to have an opinion about what is good for the World and dare to step up and ask if we are actually doing what we are here to do in the best possible way.”

Anna Plum Forrest, current student and now a teamleader at Kaospilot.
